Hammond High School in the year of 1991-1992 is the setting for the story that is about to take place...

Once Upon Our Time. . .

It was "the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness..."

When Charles Dickens wrote these words, he could not have known how accurately they would reflect the state of our society today.

The redifining of educational goals, technological advances, and the new spirit of patriotism in this country has placed it on the verge of unprecedented accomplishments.

Environmental neglect, drug abuse, and illiteracy, on the otherhand, have the potential to devestate society as we know it.

Like it or not, all of these things will affect the future of every Hammond "Wildost." Unlike childhood fairy tales, real world events do not always result in a happy ending. IN spite of this we must continue to have hopes and to dream in order to achieve our goals in life.

It is with this in mind that we look back on the people, places, and events of H.H.S not only as memories but as major contributors to our individual futures.

Chapter 1

AT FIRST GLANCE, nothing appears to be out of the ordinary. It's just another year and the same old student body. At the moment we don't pay attention to the everyday details, like the second hour announcements or the endless flow of student bodies down the hall between classes.

Instead, we form our own little groups. We worry about who's dating who, or who's saying what behind someone's back. Where we're all going friday night, and who's going out with whol

All these things add to our own personal memories of our high school years and for these reasons it would be impossible to define a common high school student.

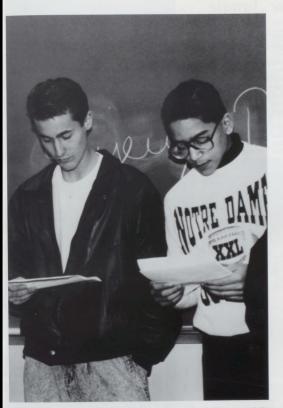

We may have shared a classroom or perhaps the same book, but as individuals we make our own memories.

HHS stuidents Jen Flores, Paul Terriquez, and Silvia DeJesus sit and wait for their turn at Homecoming bowling night.

"Welcome To The Jungle"

Welcome to the Jungle...masses of students entering thr HHE gym to the beats of the band and the shouts of "93...93" and "Seniors in tha House." It's the final activity to get the "GATS" pumped up before the Homecoming game, where Derrich Tharpe is announced Mr. Football

It begins on Monday with Theme Day. The freshman theme is "Cat on a Hot tin Roof." The sophomore theme is "Wizard of Oz." The junior theme is "Marked for Death." The seniors theme is (of coarse) "The Untouchables."

Monday night is bowling night. Tuesday is "50's,60's, and 70's day which took us back to our parents fashions. Tuesday night is the traditional hayride on a beautiful fall night. Wednesday is class colors day, and Wednesday night is Roller Dome night at the Hammond Roller Dome. Thursday night is the annual bonfire on the baseball field. Friday is "Purple and White Day" and the halls are decorated to the "MAXI"

The week leaves the students excited and exhausted from all of the activities and sad because another homecoming week has passed, the last one for the class of "1992." The week ands but the memories are still stuck in our minds and on these Arneva Mason accompanied by Tonya Smith sings Mariah Carey's "Vanishing" acappella.

Tonya Young is excited to have the honor of escorting senior Derrick Tharps, who was later announced "Mr. Football."

Jen Bloom gives it her all by playing Anita Baker's "Just Because" showing the crowd what REAL talent is all about!

"Peace Dude" was a common saying in the 70's, freshman Maggie Foster takes us back in time.

"Follow the Yellow Brick Road Dorthy" says: sophomore Tonya Jones as she poses as Glenda the good witch on Theme Day.

Homecoming Night

by: Curtis Beck

Homecoming morning is the best morning in a football player's life. You wake up feeling so much pride, vou can't describe the feeling of Wildcat pride without being a student of Hammond High. You're getting ready for school putting on something purple and white to show your spirit.

You go to school and see the halls decorated in clors of green, red, yellow, and the all time favorite purple and white, the football players are wearing their jerseys talking to each other preparing mentally for the game.

Seventh hour comes and everybody crowds into the gm for the pep assembly, the cheerleaders pump up the crowd with Wildcat pride, balloons are everywhere, and confetti is flying. Everyone is pumping up the football players for their game. Everyone is excited about the parade, but it was rained out.

Football players are in the lockeroom quietly preparing at 5:00 for the game at 7:30p.m. Their mental attitude is high. Even Markovich said,"We had a good turn out from the etudent body deepite the rainstorm and the e had been disappointing, but the kids never gave up.

thoughthe weather is getting colder and more wet by the minute, the rain has not let up since the morning.

The football players were as ready as they were ever be. The first half was disasterous. Roosevelt scored two touch downs in the first half causing high moral to come down slowly.

Fans were soaked at halftime and began to leave,by the end of the halftime the fans had left, there were few remaining, this made the wildcats crazy.

They were pumped up to win this game. Emotions were running high, in the fourth quarter there was a touchdown. All we had to do was score and tie the game going into overtime. Time was running clout a few seconds left, one yard to go. The ball was snapped, but there was a loss of vardage, the clock ran out, and the emotions began to pour out of the eyes of the football players who had worked so hard for this game. They said to themselves it will never

The team cheers and yells for trying to pump them for the next play

The Wildcat defense wildly awaits the offense. Hammond High fans meditate between quarters.

The defense looks on in amazement and confusion during the rainstorm.

Variety is the Spice of Life!

by: Melony Nix

Here at Hammond High there is a variety of everything

There are many different nationalities. At times it may be chaotic and on the other hand, there are times when an event brings us all together.

Here in the halls or after school you can here music ranging from ICE-T to Van Halen to Randy travis.

The people here vary in fashion, personality, and many other things. You can see people wearing combat boots, torn leans. or their bringing back fads from our parents generation. The newest fad is gide huma

There is a various mixture of person-also vary. They vary in the way they teach, they vary in the way they discipline, and lastly the way they dress.

the variety here changes every year. Next year the seniors will be gone (well at least most of them), and new freshman will be coming in (ha hal) so until next year we wil await the new and unique varieties.

SUMMER LIFE

JUNE 12th last day of school for most of us, unless of coarse you decide to take summer school. Then there's another option, summer camps. Although its not actual school you are gaining knowledge.

Most students attend athletic camps to better their skills for the upcoming season, while others choose to go for academic advancements.

This past summer

several HHS students had the opportunity to attend such camps "Journalism Camp was far from home but other than that I had a really good time," said Junior B.K. Cowart, Camps are more than workshops, its an adventure and a great way to meet new people. There are times when one may become homesick but the fun and excitement make up for that in the long run.

Junior Venus Manyas attended volleyball camp.

STUDY HARD, they say! Well what about the dances, games, and clubs? They're all a part of what makes school fun, but academic studies are what makes a school work. Sometimes a choice must be made. Do I go to the football game or do my essay for Mrs. Jones English class? Oh yeah, Mr. Cap's trig is due at 8:00 a.m.! the game would be fun but sitting in the stands won't get us into college.

Since freshman year we've learned (or at least some of usl) the purpose of school is to aquire skills and gain knowledge.

So between the Friday night football games, the after school club meetings, and for most our part time jobs, we turn in a term paper and read a chapter two

C.O.R.E.... "What's The Meaning?"

by: Wendy Spowart

C.O.R.E. is a program for the Freshman class. It consists of the B basic classes; such as Biology (Mr. Hayden), Algebra (Mr. Maka), English (Mr. Deak), Introduction to Social Studies (Mr. "G"), and Gym (Ms. Long),

They are isolated, and away from all of the other students. Instead of changing with the bell schedule. This program is a good way for the freshman to get to know their peers.

C.O.R.E. tends to change thier schedules every 6 weeks instead of every semester. We talked to the C.O.R.E. teachers and they said,"C.O.R.E. would be a great program if we didn't have the kids." Well actually they were all just joking of course. During C.O.R.E. you get to know your teachers and peers really well. The Freshman that are in C.O.R.E. will be able to learn how to get along with peers and ohters. Also they have three minutes to change classes. It is a great program that Freshman should be glad that their in. It teaches them leadership and how to deal with others.

The teachers of C.O.R.E. feel that this program for incoming Freshman. It helps them, so they don't get lost coming to a new school. High school is different from Middle school, so it is expected taht freshman would get lost. That is why C.O.R.E. is such a good program for Freshman. It helps them to get involved with school activities.

Iris Schuzer figures she can find the answer to the question without looking in her book.

Tanisha Jones is doing her best to finish her Biology dur-ing class.

Art work is on display on the second floor forum in front of the art rooms.

Drawing on the Art of Life

by Curtis Beck

Art is not the Bread but the Wine of Life. This saying was painted on a piece of paper and stapled on the wall in Mrs. Bauman's art.

The art rooms are filled with yesterdays paintings, shapes, obiects, ideas and concepts of many students.

Art teachers Mrs. Bauman and Mr. Ball take great pride in helping students do as many projects as they can. They help broaden the student's mind to enhance their ability to think and create.

There are many classes. Beginners start with Art 1-2 and the following year if they wish to continue they may take Art 3-4. Fine arts is required for your Honors diploma.

Projects range from little half size sheets of paper, to full size body skeletons. Art class teaches you many values, including meeting your deadline, you must be neat, clean, stav in your seats, and most of all, try to get your work done without talking to your neighbor.

Art class is fun and can be very exciting. Follow the rules, make the deadline, and have a nice day!

Physical Education lalso known as Gym)

by: Curtis Beck

The ball is dribbling down the court, you can hear your opponent quickly trying to keep up with your fast break, the game; basketball, the break, the game; basketball, the class; Physical Education.

Physical Education, also known as gym, is a subject which is hard not to pass. Gym requires you to show up everyday, also dressing to perform certain activites. There are many activities that can be displayed in the gym area. Basketball is the all-time favorite. There is also a volleyball court which you can display your technique, and of course their is the weight room, which many like to endure long hours of heavy weightlifting.

Physical Education has become a problem in society. Too many young adults are taking the easy way out.

Fortunately we have a fine physical Education staff consisting of Mr. Zadada our athletic director who also sees that any programs or sport activities in the gym are done properly with his supervision. Ms. Long is in charge of the female physical education. She directs and supervises young ladies while class is taking place. They play many sports and if weather permitting, will go to the outdoors as an answer to physical education. Mr Badovinich, which teaches Physical Education as well as a drug abuse course, tends to find spare time in his busy schedule to coach the Lady Wildat's basketball team to victories.

Overall these fine staff members try to keep the students at Hammond High School strong and healthy along with a good mental attitude.

Building a Foundation for the Future

by Gayle Wagner

The Industrial Arts department at Hammond High School consists of two teachers and two classes. The woods class is taught by Mr. Bill Bowers. The drafting class is taught by Mr. James Brown.

In woods class the students learn how to use hand tools and different types of power tools. Their first major project using the tools is making a picture frame. When the students complete their frame, they move on to various projects such as clocks, shelves, plant stands, tables, and chairs, just about anything and everything one can make with wood.

In drafting class students learn how to read and construct sketches and plans. They begin by learning how to use the equipment and constructing triangles and three dimensional objects. The final project is to sketch plans for a three leave house.

Woods class may prepare a student for construction work, carpentry, or personal construction work, carpentry, or personal projects. Drafting class perpares students for a possible career in architecture, drafting, or simply learning how to read blue prints.

When you take an Industrial Arts class you acquire skills that may aid you in your career or it may give you the knowledge to repair things around your house.

Ebony Smith and David Nix work together measuring a piece of wood for a project.

Mrs. Walker's class works hard on their child development assignments.

The boys in the back row show that their interested in food also.

Students get together to work on their project for child development.

Child Developement/Home Economics

by: Jenny Flores Our school has programs which educate the students for the world after high school.

Child Development and Home Economics are only two of the educational programs that H.H.S. provides for the students. Teens today use these programs as an advantage and also as a very useful elective Hammond High's Child Development and Home Economics prepares the students how to be good parents and how to raise their children properly. Our programs have challenging ways to teach a student to be a good parent and a good house wife.

Taking an egg home for two weeks is only one of the assignments that is most common for a student, who takes our Child Development class.

Baking and working in the cafeteria are some of the ways that our home Economics teachers prepare the students for there life.

Mrs. Jay's foods class takes time out to pose for a christmas picture while wrapping presents.

Mrs. Thomas show her sewing class how it is done.

Typing and Business

by: Janice McDonald

Fingers tapping, keys clicking, pencils scratching, timers ringing, and students thinking out loud. These may be some of the sounds students might here if they walk into a typing or business classroom. Students may wonder what these classes are all about, they may be interesting and fun if students take the time to learn and understand what benefits are being offered.

Now is the time to realize that there are a lot of careers that involve business. These careers can be in Accounting, the secretarial field, Law, and many more. That's why Hammond High offers a variety of classes related to business and typing. These classes can sharpen the mind and quicken the thinking process.

Ms. MoQuigg, Mr. Moretton, and Mr. Schishka are the teachers who teach these classes. These teachers spend many hours a day to help students develop the skills they need. So, if students decide to continue their education in business and make the grades, they can have a career that may help them succeed in life.

Zaddon Hardin and Edgar Alcantar busily type away in Mr. Moretton's class.

Jim Johnson lets his mouth drop as he sneaks a peek for an answer.

Vocational Studies

Career center is the hands on school, the trade school for student. The Hammond career center is for high school students that want to learn trades from working on cars to the culinary arts and also beauty and hair care.

Students attend this school for a half day.

Hammond High is located close to the career center, unfotunately other schools must bus their students in.

Students can attend either in the morning or afternoon classes. You can attend classes during normal school time you will get credit while being there.

Many students attend the career center and say it's very interesting, but you don't have to take my word for it. Matt Przwoznik says,

"I learned a lot about my trade at the career center. It was very interesting. You didn't have to stay all day in school, I also found a job through the career center."

Elizabeth Cessna and Tijuana Gordon are taking each others blood pressure.

Learning the Different Languages of the World

by: Wendy Spowart

From Hammond High School, here in Hammond Indiana the students travel to 3 different foreign countries. The 3 countries that they may travel to are Spain, Gremany, and France. Even though most study these languages in Middle School, most wat until they are Freshman to foreign language seriously.

Foreing language here at H.H.S. are not easy, they are rather difficult. It is hard to get into foreign languages here, due to the large number of college bound students

The teachers here, teach as much as possible. It is not required to master the languages but to make the best of them. All foreign language classes are College Prepatorial. They seem like a rather popular class to take even though you are only required 2 years of the language.

Mrs. rapp and Mrs. Kula teach Spanish, Mrs. Kostopolous teaches Kostopolous teaches German, and Mrs. Urick teaches French. All who work very hard to bring the students here at H.H.S. as close as possible to the many cultures of foreign lands and to give them the best education in foreign language that they possibly can.

The French and Spanish classes have a fiesta, where they bring food from their country. This happens during Christmas so it's called a "Christmas Fiesta"

The German classes go to a German Town every year to a german resterauntfor lunch. After their lunch, they may walk around German Town to shop.

Both activities are very interesting and very educational. The students are learning a little bit of the foreign backgrounds.

Miss Kula speaks to a captive C.O.R.E. audience.

Mark Deangelo looks hopefully lost in his foreign language class.

As Mr. Carroll lactures and keeps his class intsrssted, Kenny Pazdur and Maria Ontiveros capturs his svsry word on paper.

Part of the Puzzle

Educaton is like a jigsaw puzzle, it takes many pieces to make it complete, Social Studies is a big piece of the ligsaw puzzle of education. When one is a freshman social studies is viewed as being just geography, but as you take more classes in social studies you find that it is a reflection of our society. In classes like current issues, psychology, and sociology you see how our behavior directly or indirectly affects the way we live. Two social studies classes that are required for graduation are economics and government which give us general knowledge and an overview of our government and economic system in the United States.

Every spring the world civilizations class takes a trip to museums that focus on World War II and the Holocaust. The United States History Advanced Placement class takes an architectural tour of Chicago and they visit the Art Institute of Chicago which helps give students an idea of how art is related to history.

As you can see, Social Studies is not just geography but a wide variety of subjects which make up the social structure in our society.

Melodie Gray, Olivia Butts, Andrew Zack, and Sheila Heath pay close attention as Mr. Kucer talks about economics in the '90's.

SCIENCE-A WAY TO EXPLORE

Our universe offers so much that is yet to be revealed, from the infinite amount of space and endless galaxies, to the countless atoms on the end of a pen, or even the smallest detail in a snowflake.

Our universe is a big playground of discovery that man hass just begun to uncover. The numerous amount of things to be discovered is only touched in our science classes wether your taking notes in Mr. Malis's earth science, disecting in Ms. De Young's biology class, or expieramenting in Mr. Sizemore's chemistry class.

Hammond High offers many science calsses to help students learn more about our earth and just simply why things work the way they do.

 $\operatorname{Mr.}$ Lee, Chris Washington and Quentin Sanders all "TEST" the laws of science.

Mr. Sizemore, amazed by how much his Chemistry class has learned, sits in awe!

Doug Hayes thinks he has the "right" answer.

Mr. Cappalletti helps a student with a math problem while Melanie Miller takes a peek.

Trying not to fall behind in math class is it difficult? To most sutdents the answer is ves. Mathamatics seem to be the most time consuming homework to do. Your sacrefice a few hours of well deserved sleep to complete your assignment so you can hand it in first thing in the morning on stay up til all hours of the night studying for that dreaded calculus test.

Students who miss even a day of class find themselves in a state of confusion and baffled at the thought of coming back the next day. Mathamatics is a required course in high school in order to be accepted to college, a minimum of 2 years. Most students who are college bound go the full nine yards and take four years of math, it's a lot of hard work but it all pays off in the end.

The math department at H.H.S. stresses the importance of math and in return are asked "how is math going to help me?" Teachers do their best to explain that math enhances the mind. It not only helps figure out the bills but it also will help you in this confusing world of numbers and measurements Hammond Highs math department not only readys students for the future but it also teaches them how to think, which will be more than beneficial in life after high school.

Edwing Pina and John Bush are dazed and confused on a math problem.

While everyone else is listening carefully Eric Leonhardt strives to get ahead.

"Most Important

by: Janice McDonald English is a very important class that students take all four years of high school. At Hammond High the English teachers, including Ms. Parkhurst who is the head of the English department , take time everyday to make sure students know the skills they need, Literature and grammer, or reading and writing are the most essential part of an educatin, because one cannot communicate without these skills.

Students might remember reading Great Expectations and Romeo and Juliet their Freshmen year, their Sophomore year reading Tale of Two Cities and short stories. Junior year reading Red Badge of Courage and writing that darn term paper. and Finally Seniors would read Macbeth.

Just imagine if Hammond High didn't offer this important class. students might have problems communicating, Besides, eight semesters of English is a requirement for graduation.

Special Education Department Progresses with the Times.

The special education department at Hammond High has grown over the past few years. Hammond High has been involved in Indiana's L.R.E. (Least Restrictive Environment). Eight teachers cover learning disability students (LD), Mildly Mentally Handicapped (MIMH). Moderatly Mentally Handicapped (MOMH), and Seriously Emotionally Handicapped (SEH). These teachers cover a number of different subjects. These students have the opportunity to be in special education classes and earn their way into mainstream classes by hard work and perserverance.

Special education gives special attention to students who are in need of alternative learning styles. Without special education, many students at Hammond High School would be lost in the shuffle, but fortunately they are given an opportunity to succeed.

Regular and special ed-

also collaborated to include students with severe disabilities in designated classes and all extra-curricular activities.

It's 3:00, schools out! Where do you go, home to veg out or to a club meeting??

For some a bag of potatoe chips and the television would suit them just fine, but others, they need a change.

Clubs and organizations add variety to the regularity of a school day.

During the school day, all the curriculum necessary is learned, but we understand a different kind of data when we participate in activities with our friends.

"Unknown to HHS"

The HHS Debate team debate over who is going to make the trip to the pop machine.

One of the least known teams in Hammond High is the speech and debate team. Like most Academic teams recognition is not something that the debate team is used too. They plan to change that this vear.

Hammond Highs Speech and Debate team has a great start this year with a solid record. Placing high at Columbia City and Laporte and winning the Valpo Tournament were but a few of the victories. The team expects to achieve this year.

This years Varsity debators leading the team to victory after victory are Jeff Monberg, Terry Deak, Macky Austin, Steve Hartley, and Nick Robinson. With only 4 Seniors graduating from the team this year it seems as though Hammond High will continue to do very will as the underclassmen step up to be the new leaders.

With a good amount of talented freshmen and talented varsity debators. Hammond High hopes to do very well this year and even better next year. If Alfred Weems, Joe Lentz, Emanda Jones, and Fred Monberg continue the coaching they did this year, I can only see success for Hammond High's Speech and Debate Team. Let's just hope the tremendous ego's debators usually develop during the season doesn't make them overconfident.

Going for the Gold

On January 25, 1992 Mr. Lee and Mrs. Bartlett were able to take students from our school and finish 2nd in the Academic Decathlon. The Academic Decathlon is competition which includes studies of social studies, English. Fine Arts, and Steec and interview. The year the competition focused "Habitant Earth." The team is open to all grade levels. The students study during the school week to meet for a 10 hour competition.

The Academic Team has 3 levels. The varsity is for "C" average people, scholastic is "B" average and Honors for "A" students. The biggest misconception regarding the team is that only "nerds" join the team, and that absolutely is NOT true. This year Hammond High had students of all ability levels. The competition that Hammond High entered required learning specific, detailed information.

This year the Academic Team were led by Senior Joyce Nord who won a gold medal in Economics and Erich Leonhardt won a bronze medal at Morton High School. Some of the people on the team were Alan Jeinkins, Liz Flick, Rich Bierman, and Jason Howard.

The National Honor Society is an organization that has been in existance for many years here at Hammond High School.

The Honor Society is based not only upon academic standing, it also depends upon the various personal qualities one has and extra curricular activities that one is involved. There are many qualities that an inductee is required to have. The decision is based upon leadership. scholarship, service, and character.

It is important that you are able to maintain a 4.0 G.P.A. The Honor Society sponsors activities like car washes to raise money for the graduation ceremonv. They also collect money for food baskets around the holidays. They visit orphanges and take the children to eat, baseball games, etc.

The Honor Society also can be an important achievement when filling out your application for post-high school education. This vears president is Michael Rodeck, the Vicepresident is Kari Ramirez, the secretary is Tonya Young and the treasurer is Nykula Slack.

Principal Advisory Committee

The Principal Advisory Committee is a selected group of individ-118.18 who relay messages to Mr. White.

This committee was organized to help Mr. White be more intact with problems that the student body are confronting. Students from each grade level are chosen by Mr. White. He chooses them by reading over papers that the students are asked to write on why they would like to be picked. He then narrows it down and makes his selection.

They meet about once every month during 2nd hour. They tald about issues such as gangs, gang related activities, graffiti on the walls, and drugs.

The committee also brings to Mr. White's attention questions from the student body such as the school policy and why you can't wear bring hats and walkmans to school etc.

This committee has just started in the past couple of years but it is working out well. More than likely it will remain in existance for years to come here at H.H.S.

This years committee is Seniors Mary Jo Polos, Latonva Smith, Chris Sojka, and Tasha Jones, Juniors Sesany Fennie, Jackie Peters, and Adrienne Mayorga, Sophomores Becky O'Keefe and Missy Simpkons and Freshman Korei Nutall.

Many students(such as incomming Freshmen) don't know what S.A.D.D. stands for. S.A.D.D.

means Students Against Driving Drunk. It is one of many organizations or clubs that we have here at H.H.S. It is rather something kinda big or important to many students. They really don't think that it is "cool" to drink and drive, which it isn't. It is very dangerous to drive under the influence of alcohol. You could take your life as well as someone else's.

S.A.D.D. takes part in many activities. They have had a Spring dance, helped with the red ribbon week, and also given advice to those who attended Prom. "Lack of Recognition"

The HHS Wildcat band are usually last and always in the back of peoples minds. People fail to realize that the band is the back bone of HHS school spirit. Rain or shine they're at our home football games to keep the crowd alive and to let the team know they really do have their schools support. Without fail they are at every home basketball game to get the crowd pumped to keep our players alive and in the game. Just think if it weren't for the band we wouldn't get out of class for their programs. Some way or the other they are always forgotten about, for example. . . have you seen their uniforms lately? Would you wear them? The band is as much a part of HHS as the football team, or wrestling, or even tennis, but no one seems to give them credit. So the next time you see a fellow wildcat wearing one of those good old T-shirt's with HHS Band on the front. pat ehm on the back for a job well done.

The Hammond High School Stat Cats are four girls who record statistics for all of the boys varsity and junior varsity basketball games. Along with the parents, the pep club and the cheerleaders. the Stat Cats are a great means of support for the team.

Coach Harwell said. "The Stat Cats did an excellent job for us and we really appreciated their efforts." Recording assists, rebounds, steals, turnovers, and where shots are taken from is what you'll find these girls doing during all Hammond High games.

When the 1991-92 season began there were four Stat Cats Nekeidra Ellis, Gayle Wagner. LaTonva Smith, and Rhonda Sutton. By the end of the season only two remained due to outside obligations.

"Being a Stat Cat isn't as easy as it looks, this is my second year and I'm still learning about basketball, but we did have alot of fun." said Senior Gayle Wagner.

Gayle and Nekeidra pay close at tention to the game so they don't miss an assist or one of the many of the Wildcate shots.

"Maids on Call"

Being a Mat-Maid is very hard at first because you have to learn all of the moves and how to score them, but once you get used to it, it's pretty fun. You meet alot of people from different schools.

by: Gayle Wagner The Mat Maids are a group of girls who help and support the wrestling team during the wrestling season. They keep score and time and dual meets and tournsments. They help run the concession stand during tournaments and no matter where the wrestlers travel to the Mat Maids are always there helping out and supporting the team.

Junior Connie Page commented, "A lot of people think that there's nothing to being a mat maid. They are wrong! We worked our butts off but we had a good time!"

The Mat Maids have to put up with the wrestlers while they are cutting weight and when they lose a match. Through thick and thin the Mat Maids are alwavs there for the wrestlers From the middle of October to the 3rd week in February the Mat Maids give up a lot of Saturdays just so they can cheer on the Wildcats. "To be successful in anything it is important to have great people around you." said Coach Markovich, "and we had some great Mat Maids helping us out this year."

SERVICE IS THE KEY

The Hammond High School Key Club was organized in May of 1991, taking over the responsibilities of the former Service Club. The club's main goal's are developed on a yearly basis and focus on one specific aspect affecting the lives of people in our community. Hammond High's Key Club are those individuals that are found working the concession stand during the football and basketball seasons, guiding tours, being a hostess for Mr. White for formal affairs and various other vilunteered assingments. The key club also sells flowers for Valentines Day.

The Key Club was formed to open opportunities to strengthen the common goal of service but it also allows each Key Club member to develop into a wellrounded individual.

The Hammond Kiwanis sponsors the Key Club which meets weekly and presently has 15 active members. The club officers are: President-Michelle Raschke. Vice President- Talava Ivery, Treasurer- Janet Mack, and Secretary-Danielle Saul.

Hero, What Really Is It?

by: Sherri Herrera & Tiffany Muha

HERO, What does it really mean? HERO stands for Home Economics Related Occupations. In otherwords how will you achieve on the outside world with little or no trainning. This class has helped many of students find jobs and have some world is not fun, fair, or a bowl of cherries.

Students may think it's a slide by class and going a half-of-day is having it made. They have alot more to learn then thinking how easy it is. The importance of the course is to learn the basics. For instance, on-the-job training and how to work well with others, your skills. techniques, and attitude is also important.

This class also prepares for the future. You learn how to fill out applications correctly and learn a proper form of a reseme, ready yourself for an interview, and also other important measures in your life. Sure it may sound nice to be able to have a half day of school, but it's not that simple. There is somewhat of pressure to have to go to school and work. This class gives you the opportunity to learn thing that are needed for the future.

HERO also held three fund raisers to collect money for their HERO Banquet which was held on April 2, 1992, The three fund raisers consisted of selling candy canes, chocolate candy for Valentine's Day. and taffy apples.

The banquet was held at Johnels Restaurant in appreciation for the parents and employers for their support in out students. So as you can now see, this program is hard work and fun. If your serious about wanting to work HERO is the way to go!

It takes a dedicated and trustworthy person to be an office aide. There have not been many in recent years however. Today Mrs. McQuigg and a couple of students help out. There is a lot to be done each day in the office so with little help to Mrs. O'Rourke it can be hard to finish work. So that is where the office aides come in and help. Mrs. O'Rourke stated, "It is very good that hese kids and Mrs.

McQuigg help out. These average students do a real fine

Brandon Stone and Denise Saul are two of the aides. They must meet certain office requirements by Mrs. McQuigg They need to be trusted at all times and must be friendly, hard-working, and capable of doing the office work. All of these students have proved to Hammond High that they can give the office great help.

The Pep club was revitalized last year by a group of enthusiastic students led by tireless Mrs. Angie Silverman. Obviously the group was started to give support to athletic teams during athletic contests. The group started out slowly but has gained popularity and hopefully by next year more students will catch the spirit of the Wildcats.

The Pep club makes signs for games, cheers along with the cheerleaders,and they get everybody fired up by showing their enthusiasm. Everyone who goes to the game should be part of the Pep Club. It doesn't cost anything and one may even have a good time while they cheer the Wildcats on to victory. So, next year when you are looking for something to do besides homeworkjoin the Pep Club and suppport vour schooll

"Deadlines.Deadlines that's all we have" That's what most newspaper staffers think when they enter the class entitled Newspaper Journalism. Deadlines are the most important part of the newspaper and they are often forgotten. So, for many, it's, "O-My-Gosh, I had to get in this storyl"

Deadlines aren't the only part of being on th eNewspaper Staff. Another important part is being alert and listening to all that goes on around you, and of course being an imaginative person. The problems the Herald Staff went through this year has to do with mainly th eyearbook and newspaper being put into one class. There are only two computers and the yearbook is mostly using both. The Herald couldn't put as many Editions out because the fact that it is less important than the yearbook.

They did what they could and tried to make up for the time that they couldn't use the computers.

The 1992 Dunes

This year the Dunes staff had to work very hard to make up for last years many mistakes in the yearbook. There were many complaints about the apperance of the book but what people do not realize is the time and hard work required to complete such a task. The Dunes staff was and is very deep in debt, it's hard to make a book to fit. everyone's standard with about a hundred dollars in your bank account. This years staff was led by junior B.K. Cowart, she was in charge of assigning layouts and deadlines, all of which were not always met. "I went to summer camp so I would know a little about what I was going to be doing, and it prepared me for everything but people NOT doing their work", said B. K. The staff did a good job on raising ad sales and the sell of the book itself, more or less deadlines were met and photos were taken. We are looking forward to the big improvement from last years book.

Being drenched in sweat, out of breath, having your toes frozen, and throbbing with pain are all a part of the wonderful world of sports.

Competing in any sport requires an unwavering commitment, the sacrifice of valuable time and the acceptance of a constantly aching body.

Obviously athletics aren't all fun and games, they are however, a responsibility for those who choose to compete. In return they teach the individual sportsmanship, leadership and pride. All of which are characteristics that remain with an athlete for the rest of his or her life.

Regardless of whether or not a student decides to continue to compete on a college level, the hours of dedication will not be lost.

Independent of each player's own personal thoughts and commitments, athletics provide the individual with an intangible quality manifests itself in the individuals desire to compete with all of his/her heart and soul.

They lost a few, but they never gave up!

This year's Hammond High football team had a very unsuccessful season with a record of 3-6-0 and 4th in confrence: however through it all the Wildcats kept up their spirit.It's usually very hard for a team , who has a losing record to kepp up their morale, but the Wildcats had rare ability to hold to the very end and never quit. After losing nine straight games to Munster the Wildcats started the season with a very important overtime win over the Mustangs. The Wildcats then clenched another victory over West Side 22-6, but it didn't last long when the Wildcats played third 3rd ranked E.C. Central and lost 28-6 The Wildcats then came back up when they beat gavit 36-6. Overall the Wildcats had alot of talent and intensity but was not with it mentally in some situations. causing the Wildcats to loose a couple of games by only a couple yards. As in the game against Clark the Wildcats were down 13-19 and only had one yard to go, but was unsuccessful because of mental mistake. "That was the best game played this year." said coach Jim Sherer. Next year the Wildcats are hoping that they can learn from this year's mistakes and avenge the loses this

"HHS SPIRIT"

Hammond Highs cheerleaders are the backhone of the football team as well as the basketball team. They practice every day after school to prepare for their cheers at every game. Cold weather. rain, or even snow our cheerleaders are at the football games to support the team and keep the crowd in the game. Cheerleading is just as hard as a sport, it requires the same amount. of practice and indurance. One must also carry at least a 4.0 grade average to participate as a member of the squad. Same goes for the Pom squad, they're just as important. Every home football and basketball game they perform between halfs to keep the spirit alive. Both groups of girls are not always recognized for their time or effort but they are always out there showing their support to the Wildcats.

"On The GO!"

by: Christine Spisak

You have been running for about 15 minutes straight, no rest. You got and then lost the Legendary 2nd wind. The only thing that kept you going is your will to finish and your courage. You enter the so-called Home Stretch, the final stage in your race. Your hurt but you know you have to go faster, so you do. You ran the full distance and finish. Even if you weren't first, you could have been proud. you finished something, some people never even attempt.

That is a typical race in Cross Country. There are only a few who dare try for this grueling sport. If you do go out for it, be prepared for hard running. This year's Cross Country team had many people go out for the team and then quit, causing problems with runners elibligh to race. Another major problem was the injuries to the 2 key runners. Senior Danny Farmer and Sophomore Percy Hollis.

"Something to Cheer About!"

"Butterfly, Breastopps. Butterfly Backstroke. Breaststroke freel" Cheers Christine Spisak and Jody Wainwright the so-called ditz sises of the Hammond High Wildcat Swimming Catfish. This team was put through a lot this year. They managed to have one of their best seasons in their history. They had goals that pushed them to be better then all the rest.

The season wasn't all cake and cookies. These 13 very competitive ladies faced, and defeated many problems. Even with all the problems the swim team faced them together as a team. One of the more serious problems that faced them was pool breakdowns and the filters. The pool was shut down for heater repairs. The swim team also started getting sick from the water in the pool. The water wasn't clean as it should have been, and the cold temperatures in the pool lowered their resistance to disease. A rather hilarious problem was the other teams reaction to the cold temperatures. The biggest problem was the number of girls that tried out. Only 20 girls tried out and at the end of the season only 13 girls were left, said Mrs. Malis, the swim coach.

What's responsible for the low numbers? If you ask a typical swimmer this, she would probably say that the hard pracitices, the amount of dedecation. and theam work, instead of individual glory, can scare away most of the hirls that try out. Then how does the swim team cope with all this? The swimmers are all like a giant family. They are very close and they handle the responsibilities of seimming by joking around wiht each other, and sharing their problems.

The season didn't start off well. The pool broke down and nobody seem to know what was wrong. The home meets has to be switched to another school. The catfish never gave on hope. or gave up fighting. The ladies ended up taking 2nd at Conference an having 3 relays in the sectional finals for state qualifiers.

They ended their season at 9 loses and 8 wins. Some people were surprised that such a young and inexperienced team placed so high. There are 4 freshman, 4 sophomores, 2 juniors and 2 Seniors. These Lady Wildcats deserve alot of respect. They truely have alot to cheer about.

Tennis Anyone??

The Boy's Tennis Team, under the direction of Coach William Bowers, had a season with both good and had points. He was also named on the All Conference Team.

We asked Senior Luke

Jancich what he thought about this year's team and he replied, "Well. . . what can I say? We may not have had a winning season, but the team stuck it. out and battled to the end."

Lady Cats improve 100%

by: Jenny Flores

Winning is not the only thing the Lady Cats did. they also proved a point. The Lady Cats proved their point by defeating every team in the conference and also grabed the conference championship. Proving their point to Bishop Noll is what they wanted most. But also while doing so they proved themselves to their coach and their school.

IN years past, the girls team has been very unsuccessful. But the year of 1991-92, the Lady Cats improved their record by one hundred percent. All the winning didn't just come to them, they worked very hard in practice and also on concentrating on what they wanted the most. In their eves was a gleam of victory that every Wildcat should have and when they lost, that gleam just got brighter, and when they won they became hungry for more.

"Never Giving Up"

Sweating. Running, and Winning are all part of basketball for the boys. Losing is also part, but the boys basketball team did not let losing get in their way. After losing a game, Coach Of The Year Mr. Harwell just looked to the next practice to figure out what went wrong and tried to make it better for the the next game. The boys mever gave up. After losing they just put it beside and tried to make the mistake made before, not made again.

In everbody's eyes the boys basketball team did have a winning season, just for the fact that they never gave up.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team ended their season with a 6-14 record. The cats were plagued by injuries, inexperience, and ineligibilty early in the season and even though the record doesn't show, they improved over each game. Hammond High also had one of the toughest schedules in the area last season. Coach Green said. "We had a young team and many of our underclassmen were moved up to varsity, so we should have an experienced varsity squad next season."

The Freshman Basketball squad posted a 14-5 record on their way to another conference championship. Coach Hobbs was really happy with their accomplishments after losing two of the top players to academic ineligibility. The freshman team was led by Eric Johnson and Mike Pote but a total team effort was reason for a successful season. The Freshman and Junior Varsity teams are looking forward to the 92-93 season so they can prove that the Wildcats will rise again!

The Hammond High Catfish started their season with the feeling of uncertainty. The pool had serious problems with the heating system. The maintenance men drained the pool and shut the filters down. All home meets had to be cancelled or moved. The pool staved down for about a month-the greater part of the season. The guys had their last meet at home. Of course, they

The Wildcat varsity baseball team began their season with great expectations. The team practiced hard after school and even on weekends. They were striving for a conference championship but their dream was short lived. The cats ended up winning 8 games and George Malis, Ass. losing 18. The Cats Coaches Joe Fletcherplaced fourth in the ILSC and was eliminat-

Soccer team manages to make dream a reality, well.....almost!

Imagine if you will.a team that consisted of friends who worked to support each other and not for their own name in lights.It might have been a difficult image to visualize, but this year's soccer team made that image possible.

Many of these friendships began with the kick of a soccer ball. Several players had belonged to the same club soccer teams for five, six, and seven years.Other relationships blossomed at the start of their high school career.

They said it couldn't be done.but.the HHS soccer team came back at the end of the season to defeat the Morton Govenors by a score of 4-2. The win advanced the Wildcats to game 1 of the Northern State Cup. Never in HHS has the soccer team qualified for the state tour ney.Playing #1 ranked Andrean 59'rs, the Wildcats walked onto the field with pride and determination in their hearts.

Despite a well played game, the Wildcats suffered a loss of 3-0 disqualifying them from the playoffs. The Wildcats took the loss hard but.never lost their pride and inside they knew they were champions.

Specials Events is one of the "least used words" in HHS vocabulary. Even though there aren't many dances or so called special events in the history of being a Wildoat, students make the best of what is available. There's only one Winter Formal (well not in this book), one Senior Prom, and of coarse everyone knows "only once upon a time does one graduate from high school..."

Seniors Karrie Ramirez, James Mueller, Nancy Ly, and Anita Nieto pose for the camera before graduation comencement begins.

Midnight Masquerade

by: Felic Bucio

Prom isn't what it used to be It's the biggest night of your high school year, a night in paradise, a night away from your parents, a night you'll always remember, it's your senior prom.

Couples called off a half a day of school to do last minute things, whether it is getting your hair done. girls getting their nails done, getting a facial or picking up your date's flowers. But as usual you always happen to forget something. What good is a camera without film? No use at all. You get ready in about a half an hour and then you are ready to go but your parents want to take pictures and talk to you about the so called crazy people out there. So after the speech and pictures you're out the door with your date's flowers in one hand and your tuxedo coat in the other.

This years prom committee was led by Mrs. Kostopolous and Mrs. McQuigg. Prom was held Friday May 8, 1992 at the Lynwood Raleigh.

The Final Step

Sunday, June 7, 1992, parents, relatives, and friends gathered to watch the class of 1992 take its final steps as high school students and take their first step into the real world.

Class Valedictorian Micheal Rodeck and class Salutorian Erich Leonhardt led the processions, Erich gave his speech and reminded us of all the fun and parties that were attended. Mike Rodeck ended the note with ten words to remember "If It Is To Be It Is Up To Mell!"

As each student crossed the stage. recieving their diploma from Assistant Superintendent Don Schacki. yells of enjoyment and cries of happiness were heard throughout the HHS gym.

The ceremony ended as Principal of HHS Mr. Cassel White gave the graduating students permission to turn their tassels to the right.

"If it is to be, it is up to me," quoted Mike Rodek, H.H.S. Valedictorian.

"Never forget the fun," quoted Erich Leonhardt, HHS Salutorian

Mind Boggling SAT's

SAT's, an upperclassmens nightmarell These three letters could couse a lot of stress and mental anxiety to a college-bound junior, and to top it all off, it could ruin a perfectly good Saturday mornins.

Although it's not necessary to take these tests until your a senior most juniors get it over with. Junior Melony Nix says it's better to take them as a junior just in case you do bad, you have next vear to retake them.

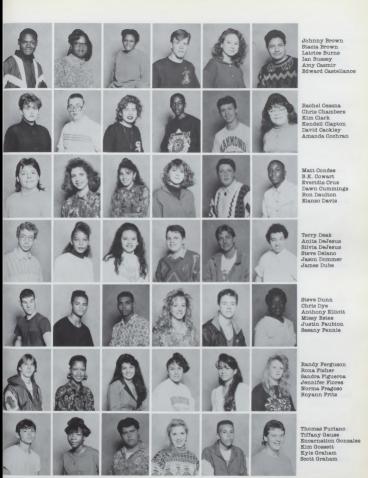

Many juniors feel the same and get up early Saturday morning armed with at least two number two pencils, "in case one breaks." It's also advised that you dress comfortably. Opinion varies on what time to arrive- "8:00 so you don't have to drive yourself nuts thinking you're gonna miss it" or "8:28 so you don't have to wait as long to actually take the test.

Most students take the SAT's at near by schools, Clark of Morton for example.

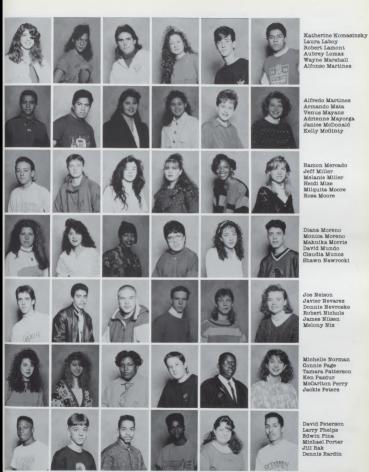

The SAT veterans have miscellaneous advice for you soon to be upperclassmen: 1. There is NO advice 2. GUESS alot! and 3. if you can connect four dots in a straight line, then one of them is probably wrong.

But the best piece of advice one can possibly give is to prepare yourself and remember, "your college career doesn't depend solely on SATs.

Beginning high school is a big ohange for freshmen, but most handle this change incredably well. The biggest change is the sudden transition from the highest classes in middle school to the lowest class in high school.

One of the few "major" problems that freshmen undergo during the first day of school is finding their way to classes without getting lost, but wait it gets worse! Fitting in, who

Chapter 7

To the graduating class. . .

It's time for you to part from HHS and go your separate ways to face the many challenges, head on. You will no longer be together each day, but the memories you've built together will last for-AVAT

As you follow the road of life that seems so unfimiliar, just be sure to keep your head held high and remember you are a winner.

Dr. King once said, "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort. and convience, but where he stand during challenges and controversy."

I would like to congratulate the class of 1992 on your many accomplishments and wish you the very best for your futures!

Special thanks also go to the Dunes staff for the BIG improvement from last years book. Sincerely, Dunes Editor, B.K. Cowart
